

FRUSTRATED HOOKERS

have we got a shaft for you

Introducing the Nike SasQuatch driver, golf's newest weapon for countering your game's most erratic shots. With its virtually indestructible titanium shaft and perfectly chiseled tip, it's designed to eliminate both slices and hooks, leaving your drives exactly where you want them.

We'll be raffling off a SasQuatch driver at the end of the NACS show, and you need only fill out an entry form—available at our NACS Booth #4515—to be considered for the free drawing. While you're stopping by, feel free to ask us about sealed bid sales, sale-leasebacks, or any other real estate or financial advisory service. After all, we're NRC Realty Advisors, and for close to 20 years, we've been the recognized leader in the structured sale of commercial real estate. We can help put your company, no matter its size, on track for continued growth.

Whatever your reason for stopping by—real estate issues, financial advisory services, or just helping out a frustrated hooker—rest assured, it's safe with us.

Welcome to Vegas.
